

We are thrilled to share that Jen Carter has joined the Ravenshoe United Church team by accepting the position of Office Administrator.

Jen's education, work and life experiences and personality will make her a great fit for us. In terms of education, Jen has both a degree in Sociology and Certificate qualifications in Infant and Early Child Mental Health.

Jen's experiences at Trinity United Church will certainly support her success with us as well. Among her jobs there, Jen is presently their Sunday School Teacher and their Youth Activities Coordinator. These jobs require both compassion as well as a high level of organization. Jen shared that she facilitates a wide variety of activities for Youth such as Volunteer experiences and in-house clubs such as the Drama Club. Still in Youth Services, Jen facilitates weekly Positive Peer Social Relationship training to support the growth of kindness, conflict resolution and patience. These values are not only present in Jen's community outreach, but in her home life as well, as Jen is a mother of four children. Jen's social outreach is not only to children and youth, however. Jen also facilitates interest programming for the elderly, as well, in an Amica facility in Newmarket.

Finally, Jen possesses many personal characteristics that make her a great fit for the RUC Community. Most notably, Jen is highly motivated. Not only does she do all of the above, but she is also the Vice President of the Optimist Club of Keswick, a position that Jen, herself, identifies as very important to her. The idea of "community" is such an important part of the Ravenshoe United Church congregation. Having another team member who shares this idea suits us perfectly.

We know that the Ravenshoe United Church congregation joins us in wishing Jen a very warm welcome. We look forward to getting to know Jen even better and for her to meet all of us in the future.
